HOME-BREW BILL IS STORM CENTER IN WASHINGTON

Search and Seizure Without Warrants Must Be Eliminated, It Is Declared

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Senators and Representatives who voted for the original Volstead act, joined today in the rising storm of protest in Congress against the Anti-Saloon League proposed to legalize search and seizure of private property outside the home by prohibition agents not armed with search warrants.

The proposal, written into the anti-beer bill by Senator Sterling, republican of South Dakota, and Representative Volstead, republican of Minnesota, threatens to wreck the plan for a congressional recess starting Wednesday and to render further doubtful the final enactment of the bill itself.

WHOLESALE GRAFT IN SHIP CONTROL SAYS HOOVER

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Graft is rampant in the offices of the federal shipping commissioners and there is to be a "clean sweep" in that branch of the bureau of navigation at Atlantic as well as Pacific coast ports, it was officially stated today at the depratment of commerce.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover today requested the resignation of Shipping Commissioner Quinn at New York. Hoover said he would "clean up" the New York bureau with a "scrub brush" to remove all traces of corruption.

GLENDALE AVENUE TROLLEY OUTLOOK

"Things are coming along as satisfactorily as we could expect," reports Harry Levey of the Glendale Avenue Improvement Association. "While we have reecived no notice officially of its intentions, we have encouraging reason to believe that the new management of the Salt Lake railroad is disposed to favorably consider the suggestion to electrolize its line and extend it to Tujunga and other territory seeking direct connection with Los Angeles by trolley."

Mr. Levey also mentioned rumors which have come from reliable sources to him and other citizens of Glendale to the effect that the Union Pacific, which has recently acquired the Salt Lake, is desirous of tapping the industrial district that is growing up along the San Fernando road and will therefore be likely to seek a right-of-way north to Burbank paralleling that thoroughfare. An excellent passenger business as well as freight traffic could be developed for both lines, Mr. Levey believes. The returns from the present spur to the Salt Lake station in Glendale are a sufficient guarantee of profit, he declares, saying he has been told that the present freight business carried by the two daily trains run over the track yields an income of $30,000 a year. Only one engine is required and it makes the runs in about two hours.

When the proposed new union station is built at the Plaza, the Salt Lake road, if electrolized, could land passengers from Glendale there in 15 minutes, Mr. Levey figures, and from Montrose in 35 minutes. Said he:

"Railroad officials cannot be hurried and will never commit themselves until they are ready to act, but we believe it is coming and that if both the Glendale avenue and San Fernando road trolley projects become a reality, they will give a great boost to east and west Glendale.

HOPE-JONES ORGAN AT PALACE GRAND

There is a great deal of what you would call "class" to the mammoth Hope-Jones-Wurlitzer pipe organ that has been installed at the Palace Grand theater. Some points about this organ are particularly interesting. In it there is wire 500 miles in length. The organ weighs about ten tons. The shortest pipe is 3-8 of an inch long, while the longest is 16 feet. It repro-

IRISH HOLD SECRET MEETING ON FATE OF THE NATION

De Valera Confers With Commander of Republican Forces in Ireland

DUBLIN, Aug. 22.—Dail Eireann went into secret executive session at noon today after a delay of an hour occasioned by a long private conference between Eamonn de Valera and Michael Collins, commander-in-chief o. the Irish republican army.

It was reported that de Valera had received a dispatch from some quarter which made it necessary to confer at length with Collins. It was understood that this letter had a bearing upon Dail Eireann's peace deliberations and that it might hasten peace.

Dail Eireann was scheduled to convene at 11 o'clock but it was 12 o'clock before de Valera arrived. He drove up in a motorcar accompanied by Collins, Countess Markiewicz and Miss Mary MacSwiney, sister of the late Lord Mayor of Cork, who has just returned from the United States.

England Presents Unbroken Front

LONDON, Aug. 22.—With Dail Eireann scheduled to hold an important secret executive session at Dublin today, the London Morning papers emphasized the far-reaching importance of the decision upon the English peace proposals and displayed an unbroken front in declaring that the offer was the limit of British concessions.

The Daily Chronicle hinted that Premier Lloyd George might set a time limit for the Sinn Fein's acceptance of the principles of the British offer if the Sinn Fein rejects the proposals in their original form.

The Daily Telegraph pointed out that this was the first time in the history of the country that the nation was unanimously behind the government's Irish policy.

Despite the unfavorable developments, the belief persists in many quarters that the door will not be closed to peace negotiations and that the parleys will continue.

The first violence in Ireland in several weeks was reported from Belfast where a bomb was thrown in the Catholic quarter of the city, wounding six persons, one perhaps fatally.

Ulster Premier Standing by North

BELFAST, Ireland, Aug. 22.—Sir James Craig, premier of the Unionist government of Ulster, arrived here today to preside at a meeting of the cabinet tomorrow when the peace situation will be discussed. He denied that he had removed his negotiations with Eamonn de Valera.

A resolution protesting against the partition of Ireland has been drawn up for introduction in the Londonderry council later in the week.

DORAN STREET IS BUILDING UP RAPIDLY

Doran street nas been forging rapidly to the front in the way of building during the past year and a half. In that time 29 new residences have been erected between Columbus avenue and San Fernando road, also the large business and apartment building of Harry Parker at the northwest corner of the two streets named. It is two stories in height and of frame and stucco construction. There are four commodious store rooms on the first floor and five apartments above. On Doran street between Central avenue and Orange street are six very large new two-story residences, five of them built by Nathan Rigdon, being of hollow tile and plaster construction, and the other built by R. M. Gost, a large frame structure.

CHURCH COMMITTEES ON INSPECTION TRIP

The finance and building committees of the Presbyterian Church, accompanied by Rev. Edmonds and some of the ladies of the church, motored to Pomona yesterday, where they visited and inspected the Congregational Church of that city. Two things in this building appealed to the group very much and are being considered by the church here as to the advisability of incorporating them into their new church building. One point was the open court between the main auditorium and the Sunday School plant and the other was a balcony over the back of the auditorium only, giving a more spacious and better appearance to the auditorium.

BILLION-DOLLAR BILL TO HELP FARMERS IS APPROVED

House Passes Administration Measure by Big Majority. To Finance Exports

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The administration bill giving the war finance corporation authority to create a fund of $1,000,000,000 to aid farmers in financing the exportation of their products, passed the house this afternoon by a vote of 314 to 21.

A resolution empowering the senate agricultural committee to investigate reports of the projection of a national organization for the announced purpose of combatting legislation for the relief of farmers of the country, was passed by the senate today by a viva voce voet. Senator Kenyon, Republican of Iowa, chairman of the senatorial "agricultural bloc" sponsored the measure.

WOMAN UNINJURED AS CAR CRASHES INTO BUILDING

In an effort to avoid another machine which, she says, crowded her from the road, Mrs. William Ferguson, 331 North Louise street, drove her car from the roadway at the corner of Louise and Broadway, crossed the sidewalk, and crashed into the Security Oil station, owned by Gus Pulliam. The front fender and spring of the car struck the Bowser pump and snapped it off clear at the point where it enters the concrete base. After knocking the pump to one side, the car jumped over the concrete base and was not stopped until the front fenders collided with the brickwork in front of the station. One fender of the car was smashed, but the driver was not injured.

BOWMAN'S GARAGE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Fire broke out last night in the garage belonging to C. L. Bowman, 448 Oak street, and before the flames could be extinguished by the Glendale fire department the structure was totally destroyed. A Ford car which was in the garage when the flames were discovered was very badly damaged. The alarm was turned in at 7:55 o'clock, and, although the department responded quickly, the flames had gained such headway that it was impossible for them to save the building.

SHERROD SHOP NOW OPEN FOR TRADE

The Sherrod Specialty Shop on East Broadway is postponing its formal opening until after the Merchants' Exposition, but is prepared to serve its patrons right now. As stated some time ago, the expanding business of this shop, which was established by Mrs. L. Quackenbush, made an inviting field for capital, and a few weeks ago she was joined by C. C. Sherrod in stocking the store with a full line of corsets, ladies' underwear, hosiery and neckwear. Instead of placing orders which cannot be filled immediately, patrons will now be able to select from stock, and be fitted without delay. Mrs. Quackenbush will continue in charge and will be glad to see all her former customers.

The interior of this establishment is decorated in French gray and old rose, which blend beautifully and furnish a very desirable background for the particular line of merchandise carried. On either side of the front portion of the room is a large plate-glass showcase, and at the rear are two dressing-rooms, six by eight feet in size, each of which is equipped in a very artistic manner. There are two large Wilton rugs on the floor. The fixtures of the windows are also done in French gray and old rose.

Mrs. L. Quackenbush, who is a graduate corsetiere, has complete charge of the corset department of the establishment.

RAILROAD BILL DEBATED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The administration railroad relief bill was taken up in the House today under a special rule which provides for a vote on its passage before the close of today's session.

MISS HAZEL MEYERS AND ROBERT FORD WED AT HOME

Father of Bridegroom Performs Ceremony—Couple Leave on Honeymoon

Very quiet but none the less satisfactory to all persons concerned, was the wedding of Miss Hazel L. Meyers to Robert M. Ford, which was celebrated Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Meyers, 1316 South Central avenue, this city.

There were no attendants and only the immediate families of the contracting parties were present. The ring ceremony was used, Rev. Ernest E. Ford, father of the groom, officiating. Following the marriage a wedding supper of several courses was served and after the pretty bride had exchanged her wedding gown for a going away suit, the young people left by auto for San Diego.

The groom, who was born in New York, came to California with his parents 15 years ago. After being graduated from Franklin High, Los Angeles, he took a short course at the State Agricultural College at Davis. He is now in the employ of the Howard Buick Motor Company of Los Angeleh.

The bride was graduated from Los Angeles High and has been a resident of Glendale for some time. It will be good news to the many friends of these popular young people to know that they are to make their home in Glendale and continue their active work in the Baptist Church, the Sunday School and choir.

ADVENTIST CHORAL CLUB AT MANHATTAN

Members of the Seventh Day Adventist Choral Club and their friends who went to Manhattan Sunday and were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Brandstater, in their new bungalow home, had a delightful day.

Everyone was ready to do justice to the bountiful lunch which had been provided after which most of the company went swimming. The rest entertained themselves pleasantly on the beach. Guests were Mrs. Edith and Olive Travis, Miss Morey, Miss B. O. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jones, Misses Adel and Elva Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swartzfager, Mr. and Mrs. E. Dunbar, Mr. and Mrs. B. Von Sternberg and little daughter Alice, Mr. and Mrs. Hartman, Misses Ruby and Marian Hartman, Will stricklin, Masters Glen and Kenneth Brandstater, Miss Hazel V. Carr, and the host and hostess, all from Glendale; J. W. Allen and Miss D. Lyons from Los Angeles, and E. A. Nelson from the College of Medical Evangelists, at Loma Linda.

SHROPSHIRES ENJOY EASTERN TOURING

Mrs. Mary E. Shropshire and daughter, Lillian, who are making an extended visit with relatives and old friends in the Mississippi valley, were in Danville, Ky., last week, according to letters and cards received here. They were enjoying a few days' stay with Mrs. Elizabeth Feland, nee Jackson, formerly of Glendale, who lives on a large farm near Danville. Her husband is a very successful farmer and they have a sweet little daughter.

The Shropshires expected to go to Cincinnati from there, making part of the trip on an Ohio river steamboat.

MRS. MINER ATTENDS PICNIC

Mrs. Martha Miner of Ivy street, this city, Sunday, lived for a few hours old-times in Michigan, for the Muskegon Club had a picnic in Bixby Park, Long Beach, which drew 140 former residents of the Wolverine State, who visited to their heart's content after the picnic dinner at 1 o'clock and the program of speech-making by prominent men who once claimed Michigan as their place of residence. Mrs. Miner was the only representative from Glendale.

BAD NEWS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—High prices are here to stay.

W. Jett Lauck, one of the leading economists of the country made this statement today. The good old days when Mr. Common Citizen's income met living costs without stretch of imagination or strain on pocketbook, are gone, never to return, he declared.

LA BREA OIL FIELDS AFIRE THREATEN HOLLYWOOD DISTRICT LOS ANGELES FIREMEN CALLED

Big Oil Fields Shoot Clouds of Smoke Into the Air Shortly After One o'Clock. Alarm Is Sent to Los Angeles While Hollywood Department Turns Out to Assist the Field Fire Forces.

Fire broke out in the La Brea oil fields, one mile west of Hollywood, shortly after 1 o'clock today.

A huge pillar of smoke rose in the air and brought terror to the moving picture studios and residents of the adjacent district.

The Hollywood fire department was summoned to the aid of the oil field fire control forces.

A call was sent into the Los Angeles fire department, which responded with numerous apparatus.

The fire was located on the property of the La Brea Oil Company. Little information could be had as to the extent of the conflagration.

At first the sight of the smoke was taken to mean a spectacular moving picture stunt was being staged. But as the smoke increased and spread from that section toward Glendale, residents of Hollywood and Glendale became uneasy.

The black pall of smoke continued to pour up over the Griffith Park hills, filling South Glendale with smoke.

Up to the hour of going to press the Glendale fire department had not been called to the scene, and it is therefore supposed the fire was being brought under control.

At the office of the La Brea Oil Company it was said that, so far as the company was informed, the fire originated in a sump hole of one of the old wells. It would not be stated to what extent the fire had spread or the amount of the damage.

No information had yet been received as to the details of the fight on the flames. It was believed, however, the flames would consume the oil in the sump and die out unless new material was added to the fire.

ENGLISH ENGINEER VISITS C. OF C. TO "BOOST"

E. Dukinfield Jones of London New Resident Here, Files Application to Join

E. Dukinfield Jones, A. M. I. C. E., a civil engineer of considerable note of London, England, is another new arrival in Glendale whose name is on the "booster" list of Glendale. Here is the reason:

Mr. Jones walked into the Glendale Chamber of Commerce headquarters Saturday, held his hand out to Assistant Secretary Saunders, and said:

Urges All to Join

"I want to join your Chamber of Commerce. I arrived recently from London, England. I note that this organization is a body of boosters and I want to get behind the wheel along with the rest of you. In talking to the peole of this city I find that there is a mistaken idea with regard to who should and should not be members of the chamber. The general impression is that it is a business man's organization and that no one else is desired. That, to my way of thinking, is an absolutely false opinion. The Chamber of Commerce is working for the good of Glendale as a whole and for that reason everyone, private resident, property owner and business man alike, should join and help the good work along. It is an organization through which the community breathes and expands. I want to be a part of the boosting activity of the community in which I live."

Secretary Rhoades Speaks

"That is the spirit that will build Glendale and make it one of the finest sections in which to live in Southern California," said Secretary Rhoades, this morning. "Every man in Glendale, whether he is in business here or not, should be a member of the Chamber of Commerce, the organization which directs the destiny of Glendale."

Mr. Jones has purchased a beautiful home at 118 Fairview avenue and is living there with his family. He has considerable property in England and has retired from active work.

Membership Increasing

Assistant Secretary Saunders said this morning that everything is coming along in grand style so far as the membership drive of the chamber is concerned. According to Mr. Saunders, quite a number of additional applications have been received and these will be acted upon at the meeting of the chamber tomorrow. The business sections of the city have been pretty well canvassed and it is expected that in the near future the drive will be extended to the private residents and property owners. Those in charge of this work expect equally good results in the work among the private citizens as have been received among the business men. The merchants of the city, it is expected, will be practically "solid" in the membership of the chamber before the drive has closed.

HOGUES ARE BACK FROM "HOGUEDALE"

Late Sunday night Dr. and Mrs. R. V. Hogue and a party of relatives whom they had entertained for the week-end, returned from Big Bear where they now have a charming cabin which they have named "Hoguedale," right on the lake front near Fawn Skin. Mrs. Hogue, her son Benjamin and her niece, Eula Linkogel, have spent most of the time for the past six weeks at the cabin and Mrs. Hogue is returning to Glendale wonderfully improved in health by the swimming, rowing, hiking, and horseback riding she has been doing. Her son and niece have benefitted in like ratio.

Sunday they had quite a house party. Dr. Hogue, who has been in Glendale during their stay, except for week-end trips, motored to the camp Thursday accompanied by Mrs. Leo Linkogel. Saturday Mr. Linkogel and Mrs. Hogue's mother, Mrs. Allen, and Mr. Tuck, joined them. Sunday afternoon the group was augmented by a call from Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. Newell and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fourl of Los Angeles.

SMALLEY TRACT IS SELLING RAPIDLY TO NEW PEOPLE

The Smalley tract, consisting of 40 acres on Sierra avenue in Sycamore canyon, is now being cut up into small acreage and building lots. John Smalley owner of the property states that 7½ acres have been sold to Walter B. Kirk of Los Angeles, who will in the very near future begin the construction of two beautiful homes on his new holdings, one to be occupied by his sister, Florence Kirk, of Los Angeles, and the other by his father. L. W. Chobe has purchased a 2½ acre piece and will build on this land as soon as he can arrange to do so. William Pelly, of Los Angeles has purchased 3½ acres of this land. Already Mr. Pelly has built one five-room bungalow and will commence the construction of another home of this size within a short time. Mr. Mercer, a locomotive engineer from Montana, has acquired 2½ acres of this land and expects to put up a beautiful and modern home some ttime this fall.

This tract is located in the section which recently voted to become a part of Glendale. The people of that locality feel sure that the very act of joining with the city and thereby getting the city water along with the other city conveniences, will be the making of their section which, during the past years has been handicapped by lack of these city accommodations.

WORTHLESS CHECKS ARE CASHED HERE

David Bisno, 110 North Brand boulevard, sold a man giving the name of J. Espinoza a bill of goods of $16.95 Saturday, taking in payment a check on a San Fernando bank purporting to be given by P. M. Hanson. The check proved to be worthless, the bank in question declaring no such person as P. M. Hanson was on their list of depositors. It is understood that other checks were cashed but for smaller amounts, among Glendale merchants.

LEONARD ERTEL IS BEST GUESSER AND WINS TACKLE

Leonard Ertel, an enterprising young newspaper vendor of Glendale, is the happy winner of the prize offered by Neale & Gregg for the best guess as to the weight of Miss Laurel Bishop, in special sport costume, who was the star of the attractive camp setting which featured one of their big windows Friday and Saturday.

He is the possessor of a fine trout outfit of rod, line, reel, and will probably become a real Isaak Walton. His guess was one hundred and thirty and three-fourths pounds, whereas the real weight of the young woman is 130½ pounds. Between five and six hundred guesses were registered which ranged all the way from 90 to 170 pounds, the average being 138 pounds.

ACTIVE MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Miss Lyda Burford, chairman of one of the six divisions of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Central Christian Church, will entertain the members of her division tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at her home on South Glendale avenue. Mrs. A. K. Crawford and Mrs. Ed Peters will entertain the members of their division on Wednesday afternoon at the home of the latter on North Orange street. Those in charge of the other divisions of the society are Mrs. Heacock and Mrs. C. W. Bacon; Mrs. Guiddinger and Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Switzer and Mrs. Creel; Mrs. Bolen and Mrs. Bennett.

CHARNLEY McCOMB ILL

Mrs. A. Weger, 332 Ethel street, is looking forward to a visit with her son, Charnley McComb of the U. S. S. McDermott, who a fortnight ago underwent an operation at the Naval hospital in San Diego and who will be confined to his bed a week or ten days longer. As soon as he is able to leave the hospital he is planning to make a short visit here before returning to duty on board ship. Charnley is well-known in Glendale, having graduated from Intermediate school, and his many friends here are glad to learn that he is recovering nicely.

CAT FANCIERS WILL SHOW FELINES AT VALLEY FAIR

Pet Mice Will Be Unavoidably Detained Elsewhere by Pressing Business

The mice will have no chance to play at the San Fernando Valley Fair for the cat will be there. Fanciers and lovers of cats generally, will be glad to know that pussy is to have her inning there.

Under the auspices of the Glendale Cat club, a regularly sanctioned show will be held, subject to the rules established by the Cat Fanciers' association of New York, during two days of the fair. Just which days, have not yet been determined, nor have any details been worked out.

Fred Hendrickson, a former resident of this city, is the president of the club, and Mrs. Golden Dewey, the secretary. Miss Cora Grim, of Grand View avenue, has been named as entry clerk and can supply any information desired by those who wish to make entries.

The coats of long-haired cats are not at their best at this season, and for that reason the exhibit will emphasize the short-haired cats. A special class will be provided for them, and prizes of the same character as for the long-haired varieties. There will be no color limitations. Beautiful short-haired kitties are wanted, regardless of race, color or previous condition of servitude. The hunting Tommy who ranges the hills for wild game and who often has a finer coat than the house cat, will be welcomed.

Accommodations will be provided for a show of about 60 cats, of which the majority will come from this city, though there will be entires from Los Angeles and all the valley and beach towns. The Glendale club is offering five silver cups and two silver medals.

The list of local exhibitors, as far as known to date, will include Mrs. George Mason of Verdugo Woodlands, Mrs. Franklin Hall, Miss Marie Larkin, Miss Cora Grim, Mrs. Golden Dewey, Dr. Pearl Rittenhouse, Mrs. F. Wallace. The Verdugo Cattery and others who have expressed interest, will probably send animals.

"Reggie, dear," said the fond mother, "now that you have got through college you must really look for some form of employment."

"But don't you think, mother," said Reggie, "that it would be more dignified to wait till the offers begin to come in?"

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

IT WILL BE YOUR JOY!

WONDERFUL, CRISP, GOLDEN BROWN WAFFLES, with rich butter plentifully spread over them—doesn't it make you hungry? And, even waffles may be cooked right on the table—for at the JEWEL ELECTRIC COMPANY of 200 East Broadway, you can buy just the dandiest electric waffle iron—a Westinghouse it is, and oh! very reasonable! It is heated from both sides, so that the turning of the heavy irons is eliminated! And in order to open or close them at will, there is a convenient handle placed as on a basket, when closed and simply lowered to open the iron—and so situated that there isn't the slightest danger of over-heating and burning one's fingers! Another Westinghouse table appliance at the Jewel is the toaster which will automatically, just by the raising or lowering of the lever, turn over the toast—and without the necessity of touching it with one's fingers! And the percolators, too, that the Westinghouse people make, are so very good-looking. They are modelled along distinctive lines and of the finest plated silver! Stop in at the Jewel and ask to see their Westinghouse table appliances.

AND IT WAS A STUPID ERROR!

BEHOLD STUPIDITY JANE! Do you remember last week I told you all about those lovely vestees which you may have hemstitched in squares and other attractive designs at BROOKS' SHOPPE! And, I also told you that they could be marked with either pencil or tailor's chalk? Well, not only that, but they MUST be marked, so that the hemstitcher may follow the design! Now, rule off the squares in the size you want and take the vestee right down to Brooks', at 123 North Brand boulevard.

"AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION"—

SOME TIMELY SUGGESTIONS to householders who are not familiar with the intricate working of their plumbing systems, are offered by Mr. Sheehy, of the GLENDALE PLUMBING COMPANY, at 134 South Orange street. He says that "too many people, simply through their lack of knowledge along sanitary lines, wait until something happens—and then start paying doctors' bills!" And if they did but realize it, the old saying that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" is so directly applicable to the plumbing situation, in the home rather than any other subject, that it might have been originated in reference to that very thing! For, it is absolutely essential that one's home should be kept thoroughly up-to-date and modern in every respect—and often one little ounce of the proper prevention will save hundreds of dollars worth of plumbers and doctor's bills — or cure! The Glendale Plumbing Company carry only the best quality materials and employ only the most efficientt and capable workmen—so that if they care for and install your modern plumbing you may rest assured that it will give lasting satisfaction!

WHAT A WONDERFUL DAY! Wouldn't it be delightful if you had a car in which you could take your family and your friends riding on days such as these—for it is only in riding and picnicing that one can get the full enjoyment of this glorious California weather! Have you looked at the new Sheridan at the CLUB GARAGE—107 East Colorado street. It is a car of singularly beautiful construction—and a car that is most economical to operate! The first cost on the Sheridan, which is exceedingly low, will be practically your last cost! There will not be any large bills for up-keep and repairs for many months to come. I should most certainly advise your calling Mr. Murphy at the Club Garage for a demonstration—and ask about their terms, too, they will surely interest you!

AT TEA TIME

WHEN YOU'RE SHOPPING down town, drop in at the ELITE SWEET SHOP for luncheon. They serve a delightful merchants lunch for only 45c—and their pastry—! Well, you will have to visit their bakery department and try them for yourself. Suffice to say that are positively the best I have ever tasted. You see the Elite carries Van de Kamp's bread and pastries, and you know that they are just the best ever. Or if it's tea time when you find yourself in the vicinity of 134 South Brand, stop at the Elite and have one of their famous sundaes or sodas. They also serve dainty sandwiches and wonderful coffee! In short, the Elite Sweet Shop is a most delightful place and everything served is just right up to the minute and wonderfully cooked.

Ghastly Cry for Bread Rings Through Russia

(By International News Service)

BERLIN, Aug. 22. — Stories are reaching Berlin hourly of the great tragedy which has fallen on Russia. Some of these seem too ghastly for belief. Yet the many parts of the country from which they come and the same terrible details of famine, disease and death with which they are crowded indicate that Russia is looming up to the world's stage in greater catastrophe than ever before.

The mighty nation of a hundred and forty millions is writhing in the death agonies of cholera, scurvy, hunger and typhus. Plague has rendered the streets of the principal cities like London's highways during the terrible visitation of 1665. Politics, personalities and creeds are forgotten momentarily before the scourges. Marxist theories are vanishing into thin air before nature's relentless onslaught. All the efforts of the Soviet Government are directed toward the formation of committees of succor, many members of which are former bitter political opponents. History has no parallel to the disaster now overtaking the unhappy land.

Great Crack in Earth—Drought Taking Toll

The drought is taking its toll of victims in the north. The earth in many places shows cracks twenty feet deep. Trees are devoid of leaves, and all well and streams are dried up. Many villages have been wiped out by fire. Nearly all the cattle have been slaughtered for food, or died for want of water. The population is feasting on rotten sun-dried carcasses, collapsing immediately after from ptomaine poisoning. Whole towns are emigrating in thousands. Many of these unfortunates will never reach their destination, and hundreds have already perished on the way. Those that are struggling along on their tragic pilgrimage are living on grass, hay, tree-bark, and plundering wherever they can.

Autopsies have revealed that the stomachs of the dead contained nothing but parched grass. In many cases the populations of towns and villages come out into lanes to meet the refugees and massacre them for fear that they will plunder their own precious food stores. The cry for bread is ringing from helpless mouths over countless thousands of square miles, and there is none to help. Saratoff is offering in vain ten horses and five head of cattle for each three pounds of flour.

Kneel at Shrines

The peasants are kneeling at wayside shrines before effigies of Christ crying out: "There is no health in us O Lord! Give me bread, O precious Savior! Ere we perish!"

The Derevnskaya Biednota, the Soviet organ, prints today a list of provinces in which famine and other scourges are killing one person in three. These include Moscow, Petrograd, Archangel, White Russia, Smolensk and the Crimea. There are reports that the Soviet Government is preparing to transport 1,200,000 peasants into China. It is estimated that 600,000 will never reach the journey's end. One person in every 400 sufferers can be accommodated in the special hospitals which the Soviet Government has erected at Moscow and Petrograd. Others fall dead in the streets, their bodies contaminating the air, while birds of prey hover ominously above the telegraph wires.

The simplest operations cannot be performed for lack of doctors. Those that are there have no instruments, no anesthetics, no bandages, no medicines.

Germany is participating actively in the international measures for the assistance of Russia, Maxim Gorky, with the agreement of the Soviet authorities, is coming to Berlin to get in touch with leading physicians and scientists. The Germans are unable to send food but are dispatching with all haste numerous Red Cross units, huge quantities of surgical instruments, especially to the Volga district, where there are 750,000 Germans.

Even the most ardent wet will now agree with the law's declaration that it is a crime to give away liquor.

HAWAIIAN GROWS WHITE HIBISCUS

(By International News Service)

HONOLULU, Aug. 22. Because he succeeded in producing a double white hibiscus flower, a thing never before seen in Hawaii, John Walker, Honolulu contractor, is today the proud possessor of a handsome silver cup.

The doner of the handsome trophy is Gerrit P. Wilder, a "kamaaina" (old timer) of Hawaii and one of Honolulu's leading citizens. Outside of business hours Mr. Wilder is an enthusiastic grower of hibiscus, the exotic flower which adorns hedges and gardens throughout Hawaii. Over two thousand known varieties of this showy flower are contained in Mr. Wilder's collection, but he lacked one variety which he knew would be a thing of surprising beauty if it could be grown. That was the double white flower, two of the great white blossoms side by side on the stem. Accordingly, he pledged himself to donate a handsome silver trophy cup to the first person to produce one of these rare flowers. That was three years ago, and until now the trophy had not been claimed. Then, by the merest accident, Mr. Walker, ignorant of the prize at stake, left a bouquet containing a double blossom on a bank cashier's desk, following a pleasant custom of Hawaii. Mr. Wilder saw the blossom and was told the doner's name. A cup was ordered, and now Mr. Walker has something new to display to company.

It is not known whether it will be possible to propagate the new variety.

An artist who was extremely shabby was walking along the Boulevard des Italiens in Paris one day. Some one hailed him from the rear.

He turned and saw a famous painter hurrying after him. Being much flattered the artist said, with a touch of pride: "So you recognized me from behind?"

"Yes," replied the famous painter, with a malicious laugh, "I spied you through a hole in your coat."

DRY CHIEF IS RILED BY JIBES ON PROHIBITION

By H. K. REYNOLDS

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—English visitors to the United States who smile wisely when prohibition is mentioned and ridicule our "dry" policy have aroused the ire of Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, who believes that the Volstead Act is "completely vindicated" by a comparison of records of drunkenness in this country and Great Britain.

Wheeler calls attention to an official report recently presented to parliament giving statistics of drunkenness in England and Wales for the year 1920. This report showed the total number of convictions for drunkenness in England and Wales for that year to be 37,815, or 65.26 per cent in advance of the number for 1919.

"In spite of the difficulties of law enforcement and the organized effort to defy the law in this country," Wheeler declares, "there has been a decrease of abut 60 per cent in the number of arrests for drunkenness under national prohibition.

Explanation is Asked

"English visitors who are ridiculing our national prohibition policy would be more interesting and not so ridiculous if they would explain why arrests for drunkenness are increasing in England and Wales at about the same rate they are decreasing in the United States."

As "facts for our British friends to ponder over," Wheeler submits the following:

"In 59 cities of the United States having a population of 300,000 or over and a combined population of 20,000,000 (including New York, Chicago and Philadelphia) the official figures show a decrease in arrests for drunkenness from 316,842 in 1917 to 260,169 in 1918, to 172,635 in 1919 and to 109,768 in 1920.

"Decrease in Arrests"

"Official statistics from the 39 largest cities in Indiana, with a combined population of 994,287, show a decrease of arrests for drunkenness of 70.6 per cent in 1920 as compared with 1917, the last year the state was wet.

"Detroit reduced the arrests for drunkenness from 19,309 in the year 1917 to 6,244 in 1920.

"The Boston police department reported 5,287 fewer arrests for all causes in 1920 than from drunkenness alone in 1919. For the State of Massachusetts at large the arrests for drunkenness in 1920 were 32,580, as against 77,925 in 1919.

In 1917 the arrests for drunkenness in New York were 14,182; in 1920 the number had dropped to 5,813.

Decrease in Connecticut

"In Connecticut drunkenness decreased from 3,777 in 1919 to 943 in 1920.

"The arrests for drunkenness in Minneapolis decreased from 6,089 in 1918 to 1,550 in 1919.

"Louisville, Ky., reports 3,624 arrests for drunkenness for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, wet, and only 412 arrests for the same cause for the year ending June 30, 1920.

"The number of cases of intoxication in Cincinnati decreased from 1,470 in 1918 to 335 in 1920.

"The number of arrests in Denver in 1915 (the last wet year) for drunkenness was 3,227; in 1920, 899.

Richmond Makes Showing

"The population of Richmond, Va., has increased 27 per cent in the four years the state has been dry, but the arrests for drunkenness and disorderly conduct have decreased 75 per cent.

"The number of arrests for drunkenness the last wet fiscal year in Grand Rapids, Mich., 1917-18, was 1,734. For the year 1919-20 the number was 421.

"St. Louis reduced the number of cases of drunkenness from 2,605 in 1919 to 69 in 1920.

"Peoria, former whiskey center of Illinois, reduced the total arrests for drunkenness for the year ending July 1, 1920, to 295, as compared from 2,605 for the preceding year."

A Final Broadside

"The people of the United States have the greatest affection for their Allies and have no disposition to embarrass any of them unduly in their financial obligations to this country. But if Americans were to be as critical of England's drink policy as many visiting Britons are of American prohibition we could easily suggest that if England would only stop its enormous drink waste of nearly two billions of dollars annually it would not be so very difficult for her to meet interest payments upon her foreign debts."

Tied Up

Brown and Jones, at the club, were lamenting the absence of their mutual friend Robinson, who had got married.

"We don't see much of Robinson now," said Brown. "I fancy his movements are not so free as they used to be."

"That's true," replied Jones, dryly. "Since he tied the knot he's not had so much rope!"

Men have been so interested in the length of skirts that they have neglect their own interests and permitted manufacturers to cut half a yard from the tail of shirts.

OHIO WOMAN HEALER CLAIMS CURES BY DIVINE POWER

By WILLIAM J. HUSKE,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CANTON, O., Aug. 22—"Believe in God. Then I can cure any kind of disease!"

This is the first statement made to all prospective patients by Mrs. Lila Taylor, bonnie Scotswoman, who declares she is a divine healer. Her claim to these powers was attested by the long waiting list of maimed and halt—sufferers from almost all the ills to which the human flesh is heir—that crowded her little home in this city when the healer was interviewed.

"I have raised dying men and women from their beds and made them well again," she said. "My power I cannot explain. My grandfather had it to even a greater degree than I have. He was able to cure a man by speaking to him. When I was a little girl I used to see men hobble into my grandfather's house on crutches. He would tell them to place their crutches in the corner and walk out. They always did. When I reach thirty, which will be in a few months, I hope to have the power which he long had."

Started In Early

Mrs. Taylor was born in Scotland. She says she began curing people when she was eight years old. She has lived in the United States for eight years, but only five months at Canton. In that time the number of ailing who have visited her has reached into the hundreds.

"They come to me so fast I cannot take care of them," she said. "They come when I am in bed and when I am eating. I cannot refuse to help any of them, or my power would leave me."

The divine healer accepts pay only in very exceptional cases she declared. "I never take money from those who have little, but, if the rich want to help me, that is all right," she said. "If anyone paid me who had to go hungry I couldn't sleep."

Prayer to God in an Indian tongue are the chief reliance of the healer, although she also depends upon incantations and blood to help along the miracles.

Her Standard Formula

"Take a live pigeon, split open its back, take out the palpitating heart and bind it on your chest; then take a linen band, dip it in the warm blood of the pigeon and bind it around the chest. All the while repeat prayers and incantations in Indian."

There are many here who assert that the treatment, fantastic, ignorant and absurb as it sounds, works the benefit claimed.

The "divine healer," uses an Indian tongue in talking to God so that none but she and Goy may "know what she says," she said.

Miraculous powers of diagnosis are also claimed by and for her. "I can diagnose any kind of a case without touching a person," she asserted. "I can feel inside me whether it is liver trouble, tuberculosis, or any other disease. I know what is wrong, and I know that I can cure them before I start, I have never made a mistake.

"The cherry tree is good for dropsy," she added. "The plum tree also helps in many diseases, and there are some diseases I cannot master without the aid of an apple tree.

"I can cure hundreds in a day," because it only takes a few seconds to give the ordinary treatment. Sometimes I have to give more than one, if the trouble is stubborn. In cases where death seems near I always insist upon a doctor, as I do not want an inevitable death charged to me by the officials."

"Divine healer" or an arrant fake, the attractive young woman whose cheeks are aglow with health, and who is happily married and the mother of a boy baby five months old, gets and holds the faith of her visitors.

Miraculous stories of cures wrought by her were told by members of the waiting throng, some of whom claimed to have members of their families who had been cured by one means or another.

"It's mostly faith that works the cures," Mrs. Taylor said in parting. "I use all the things I told you about, but the real things that do the business are my talks with God. The others are only symbols to those who come to me for help, and to me to strengthen our faith. When I'm a little older I'll have perfect faith, just as grandfather did, and then, believing that with God all things are possible," I'll be able to do them just as he did."

BAN ON BOGUS MILK SOUGHT BY BILLS IN CONGRESS

Spurious Food Is Menace to Public Health and Stirs Solons to Action

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. — War against the "menace of bogus milk" has been declared in congress.

Three bills are pending in the house to make illegal the manufacture and sale of skimmed milk and cocoanut oil compounds, which are made to simulate evaporated milk.

One of these measures, introduced by Representative Voight, of Wisconsin, seeks to prohibit interstate commerce in these compounds, while the others, offered by Representatives J. D. Beck of Wisconsin, and Joseph W. Fordney, of Michigan, provide for the prevention of milk counterfeiting by taxation, so as to take the profit incentive away from manufacturers and dealers.

Expects Urge Enactment

Various associations of milk producers and dairymen have urged the passage of the bills, and in support of their arguments against milk compounds, they have secured and presented testimony from Dr. E. Collum, the nutrition expert of John Hopkins University; Prof. Oscar Elf, of Ohio State University; A. J. Glover, editor of Hoard's Dairyman; Prof. Hart, of the University of Wisconsin, and Prof. H. C. Sherman, of Columbia University. Opposition to the bills has been voiced by the milk manufacturers, who introduced a statement by Prof. Mendel, of Yale University, to prove that there are vitamines in skim milk and that vegetable fats are wholesome products.

One of the most interesting of the statements given before the house committee which is considering the milk bills, was that of Prof. Elf, of the University of Ohio.

"Bogus Milk Not Recent"

"Bogus milk, or filled milk, is not a recent product," Elf told the committee. "Skim milk and oil, both animal and vegetable, have been combined for culinary purposes for more than 30 years. Calves have been fed on mixtures of lard and skim milk for experimental purposes for an equal length of time.

"In 1917, however, a so-called scientifically mixed and prepared animal fat and skim milk compound was put upon the market as an infant food and to replace condensed milk. This product was supposed to have superior merit, but the fact of the case was that after some time the experiments showed that the food was actually deleterious to infants. These facts were the primary motive for our investigation to show the comparative value of the compound with condensed milk.

Concoction Stunts Growth

"A number of cages of white mice were subjected to nutritive tests. One lot was fed on condensed milk and after four months of growth weighed 182 grams, while another lot was fed on this compound and weighed 40 grams after the same period of time and kept under the same conditions otherwise.

"The manufacturer claims that with every case of milk sold special directions are given as to the use of this material. The fact nevertheless remains that the final consumer is deceived in many instances in that he is trying to buy condensed milk which has the intrinsic constituents, namely, vitamines, which do not exist anywhere else, and instead, gets a compound which is entirely deprived of them. An alloy of gold might pass just as well as pure gold, nevertheless, it does not have the intrinsic value and therefore becomes a counterfeit.

Standard is Required

"The United States government, in its maintenance regulations, provides for condensed milk, which reads to the effect that condensed milk for army and navy purposes shall be pure, unadulterated, fresh, wholesome milk, with water removed. And yet these compounds have been found in United States army camps and were used until attention was called to the fact that they were not consuming condensed milk, but rather a compound.

"There is no doubt but what the parties that were responsible for putting this material into the camps were innocent. It therefore becomes doubly important that the government protect its people in such a way that it would not be possible to perpetrate a fraud without perfect knowledge of the same."

Opponents of the bill admitted during the hearing that approximately 85,000,000 pounds of milk compounds had been manufactured in 1920.

FELINEOUS ASSAULT

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—A cat is not a deadly weapon, Judge Larry Jacobs ruled in police court here when James S. Jankowski, who styles himself a cat salesman, charged Louis Echeles with assault with a deadly weapon.

The testimony showed that Echeles hit Jankowski in the eye with the animal.

"I don't think a cat is a deadly weapon," said the judge, dismissing the case, "but you might take out a warrant for felinous assault."

SECRETARY SLOPS PIGS FOR RELAXATION

Denby Weeds Garden and Feeds Hogs for Recreation and Splashes in Favorite Swimmin' Hole on Michigan Farm—Admits Taking on Weight

(By International News Service)

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 22.—On a farm in Waterford county, near Pontiac, Mich., a man dressed in brogans and overalls can be seen feeding the chickens and pigs and curry-combing his favorite mount.

He is "up with the cickens" every morning at 5 o'clock. He milks the cows, mows the lawn, weeds the garden and goes swimmin' in the old swimming hole.

He goes about his day's work as thousands of other American farmers. To his friends and neighbors he is "Ned Denby, who owns the Denby place."

In Washington he is called "Mr Secretary," and holds down the job of bossing Uncle Sam's navy.

He's On His Vacation

For "Ned" is no other than Secretary of the Navy Edwin Denby, spending a two weeks' vacation on his farm.

"The secretary is taking on weight. But I'm going to stop that," he laughed. "I've set myself the task of taking a ten-mile walk every day."

"Politics? Not a word—at least not right now."

He looked about his acres. "Do you know," he began, "it's a mighty funny thing, but every sailorman loves the land. You'd think they'd want to spend their vacation and rest time on the water. No, sirree! Not by a marlin spike! They all want the land.

"There's a story. It's about a sailor who put in forty years on the sea. He finally decided to retire. He came ashore and, putting an oar on his shoulder, started inland.

"'Where 'bouts you going to settle?' asked his mates.

"'I don't know yet,' was the reply. 'I'm a-goin' to walk inland, and when I come to a place where no one knows what this thing is I've got on my shoulder, I'm going to anchor there.'"

Coaxed to Go Swimming

"Daddy," he coaxed, "you've got to come bathing with us."

The secretary looked askance at the photographer. "Remember," he cautioned, "no pictures of me in the water. Wait until the effect of those ten-mile walks are more apparent. Wait until I have regained my lithesome grace."

"Farmer" Denby then passed around apples and milk, and finished up with real "store" cigars.

Very Rich

The Governess—I'm afraid your little daughter will never learn to spell.

Mrs. Newriche—It won't make any difference. When she grows up she'll have money enough to employ a secretary.

Disliked Being in Society

WOMAN'S PREROGATIVE SUSTAINED IN GERMANY

(By International News Service)

BERLIN, Aug. 22. — Woman's time-honored prerogative of telling a white lie about her age has received the judicial approval of Germany's legal savants, who have solemnly declared that gently kidding a prospective bridegroom about her age is not a ground for divorce.

The case arose where a blushing maiden of 37 coyly admitted before the wedding that she was 26. When the 28-year-old husband demanded a separation because of this deception the court refused, establishing a new "unwritten law" in favor of the gentler sex.

ASHTONS BUY HOME OF MRS. HOFFMAN

Mrs. Nettie Hoffman has just disposed of her home on Stanley avenue to K. Snyder and Florence K. Ashton, sisters from Pasadena. This is a pretty six-room dwelling and the sale was made through Harry M. Miller. The new owners expect to move to Glendale at once, and to make this place their future home.

MONEY FOR AID OF FARMERS IS PLAN OF CONGRESS

By A. O. HAYWARD,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. — Insurance of agricultural negotiable paper to standardize and to provide discount markets for it is being considered by Congress in its groping for a practical plan to assist the farmers.

Some large insurance company, or companies, may be induced to change charter provisions in order to undertake this field of insurance. British insurance companies have been engaged with profit in this line for many years.

The House Banking and Currency Committee will consider the legislation necessary to make effective the proposed plan of financial aid to agriculturists Chairman McFadden, of that committee, has submitted for consideration of the committee a bill to legalize the scheme. It is known as a Rural Credits and Multiple Insurance bill, and its declared purposes are 'to standardize paper for agricultural production and to establish discount markets for such paper."

Public Hearing Scheduled

During the coming fall a special committee, consisting of Representatives Clarence MacGregory, of New York, chairman; James W. Dunbar, Indiana, and Eugene Black, Texas, will hold public hearings on the legislation to get the views of those interested. The National Society of Pure-Bred Livestock Associations has asked to be heard in support of the bill. Insurance interests, bankers, farmers' organization and others will be heard.

The McFadden bill creates two corporations—a rural credit society and a multiple insurance league—to carry into practical operation the plan as purposed. It is expected that insurance companies can be induced to accept a multiple insurance charter in lieu of State charters, which they now have to carry on their insurance business. The Federal charter proposed is broad and liberal and permits insurance companies in the league to do every class of insurance. Many British insurance companies have held such charters for over a century.

The insurance league is to serve two purposes: First, it will act as a useful agency in standardizing the agricultural paper created by the rural credit society. This is similar to the work of the British "acceptance houses," which have been potent factors in standardizing the British bill of exchange.

Second, it will furnish cheap and sound multiple insurance to the members of the credit society to enable the tenant farmer to furnish as good security as a basis for credit as the richest farmer. The actual tiller of the soil would command the lowest discount rate for his productive credit paper.

The British acceptance houses grow out of the importing merchant firms, who originally accepted bills in the course of their importing business, and merchants of second-rate credit found that by paying a small commission to the acceptance houses for endorsement their paper would command the lowest discount rate on the open market.

A big life insurance company could perform, it is argued, a similar service in the farm credit system proposed in the McFadden bill.

A COMPLEX SITUATION

"A way out of the difficulty created by the refusal of the Senate to ratify the treaty of Versailles has been found," says the Sioux City Journal, which declares that Secretary Hughes "is to formulate a treaty of amity and commerce with Germany, separate and apart from any understandings between the Allies and their former foe and, at the same time, retaining, under the Versailles pact, the rights accruing to the United States by its terms." The Journal admits that "the situation is a little complex at first glance."

And, it might be added, that the more glances given it the more complex it becomes. In the first place, the Versailles treaty provides that Germany shall make no commercial treaties without the consent of the Allies. The United States would certainly be in a unique position if it encouraged Germany to break the Versailles pact and, at the same time, maintaining that the United States would expect the Versailles treaty to be fulfilled. It is the height of incongruity.

But what is even of more importance as an obstacle to such a scheme is the assumpiton of this country that it expected to reap the benefits of the Versailles treaty without being a signatory. The position of this country would be similar to that of a farmer who refused to insure his crops, as his neighbors did, but who demanded insurance when the hail storm came and ruined them.

It is, of course, possible for the United States, because of its present wealth and man power, to wholly ignore the Allies in making peace with Germany. Some sort of a patched-up separate peace may be made, but it will not only be without precedent in the annals of international history, but it will be an affront to our allies, which will leave a scar not soon to fade away. A separate peace will, indeed, make "a complex situation."

This is the time of year when, if one happens to be fond of fresh, succulent, red tomatoes, it is impossible to be a pessimist. The juicy vegetable—or fruit, for it is, indeed, as luscious as fruit—may now be bought on the market at a price which permits all to indulge in a heaping place of sliced tomatoes every meal. And it matters little how they are eaten—either with salt and pepper, or with sugar, or, for the more particular, with vinegar and oil. Those few unhappy souls who have not a tooth for ripe tomatoes are missing much happiness in this brief span of years. The fresh tomato addict of today finds it impossible to realize that only a generation or so ago people looked upon it as a piosonous weed and would have as soon thought of keeping a rattlesnake for a pet as eating one of those ornamental red pods which we know as tomatoes.

The old theory that every young man had to pass through a period of sowing wild oats makes it easy to believe that all citizens must pass through the period of making corn mash.

Jack Dempsey took it seriously when Congress passed the Porter-Knox resolution declaring peace. It is reported that Jack is now going to Europe.

The arrest of a state governor, even in this age of the unexpected, is something quite out of the ordinary.

And now the prohibitionists will probably try to make the ocean dry.

GRAVE AND GAY

A boy had told his teacher a lie—a concoction so evidently false that there was no difficulty in exposing its character.

"How on earth did you come to tell me such an untruth?" inquired the schoolmaster.

"Well, sir," replied the culprit, "I'm very sorry; but the other boys were making such a noise that I couldn't hear what I was saying."

"Your illuminator, I say is shrouded in unimitigated oblivion."

"But really, I don't quite—"

"The effulgence of your radiator has evanesced."

Just then a boy shouted:

"Hi, mister your lamps out."

And the cyclist understood.

"Well Alice," said a southern woman to a colored girl formerly in her employ. "I hear that you have married."

"Yassum, Ah done got me a husband now."

"Is he a good provider, Alice?"

"Yassum. He's a powerful good provider, but Ah's powerful skeered he's gwine git catched at it."

"How was the play last night?"

"It must have been good."

"Yes?"

"A man who went in on a pass remarked in the vernacular of the day that he'd 'say it was.'"

A Rare Bird

A pesimist goes in the back door when the front is shut; the window when the back is shut; the chimney when the window is shut, and blows off the roof if the chimney's shut. Let's go.

"Our guide talks a good deal about the danger of snakebite."

"He wants to find out if you brought anything along." J

"Papa," said Evelyn anxiously, "when you see a cow ain't you 'fraid?"

"No, certainly not, Evelyn."

"When you see a horse ain't you 'fraid?"

"No, of course, not."

"When you see a log, ain't you 'fraid?"

"No!"—with emphasis.

"When you see a wasp, ain't you 'fraid?"

"No!"—with scorn.

"Ain't you 'fraid when it thunders?"

"No!"—with loud laughter. "Oh you silly, silly child!"

"Papa," said Evelyn solemnly, "ain't you 'fraid of nothin' in the world but mamma?"

The dear old lady entered the drug store and looked doubtfully at the youthful clerk behind the counter.

"I suppose," she said, "you are a properly qualified druggist?"

"Yes, madam."

"You have passed all your examinations?"

"Certainly."

"You've never poisoned any one by mistake?"

"Not to my knowledge."

She heaved a sigh of relief.

"Very well then, you can give me a nickel's worth of cough drops!"

"You are as black as a coal heaver," declared Bridgitte, scrubbing vigorously. "Nobody would want to come near you."

"Oh, I dunno," replied Johnny between breaths. "I seen you kiss the coal man."

WOMAN'S COZY CORNER

Simple Desserts

For the daily menu, the dessert should be considered in reference to the rest of the meal. If the main dish of the meal has been rich in protein and fat the dessert should supply the mineral salts and sugar, or starch and sugar in combination.

Rice is one of the best cereals for desserts; when milk is available, cook rice in the milk, then serve hot on cold with preserved or canned fruit. Of course every housekeeper has stale bread at times, and, if well made, what is better than a bread pudding? The secret lies in having the crumbs fine and well soaked in the milk before combining with the eggs and flavoring. But even more important is the baking. All mixtures of egg and milk should be baked in a moderate oven slowly. It is best to place the dish contatining the pudding in a pan of hot water, and then never allow the water to boil.

Any kind of a light biscuit dough, containing dried fruit such as raisins, dates, figs and prunes, or fresh fruit, such as berries of all kinds, apples, cherries, peaches, may be served very often. Dried fruit, by the way, with proper soaking and cooking is as good as canned fruit.

Fruit batters, known as fritters, are a pleasant change, but the frying must be well done, and the fritter should not be greasy. Bread, dipped in batter or left-over cooked cereal, rolled in egg and crumbs, may be fried and, when served with sirup or liquid sauce is an inexpensive dessert much liked.

The housekeeper of today must make up her mind that in all cooking to feed her family she must spend either time or money. Careful thought ahead of time saves money, but may take more time. The success of the last course in a meal depends upon variety, careful thought, attractive service and good flavor and texture. A cold, well-made dessert on a hot day, a hot delicate dessert on a cold day, a flower beside a mold of jelly, a bright garnish on a colorless dessert these are all trifles, cost little, but mean much.

The recipes below are merely suggestive:

Bread Pudding—Plain

2 cupfuls of fine bread crumbs, 4 cupfuls of milk, scalded; ½ cupful of sugar, ¼ teaspoonful of salt, 1 or 2 eggs, 2 tablespoonfuls of melted butter.

Soak bread crumbs in hot milk for an hour, add sulgar and salt, eggs slightly beaten and butter. Reserve whites of eggs for meringue.

Cream Puff Mixture

1 cupful of water or milk, 1 cupful of flour, ¼ teaspoonful of salt, ½ cupful of butter, 4 eggs, ¼ cupful of sugar.

Place water or milk with butter in a saucepan over the fire. Bring to boiling point, add flour and salt all at once and stir and cook until mixture leaves sides of pan. Remove from fire and add eggs, unbeaten, one at a time, beating thoroughly until smooth.

Cream Puff Variations

I. Drop by spoonfuls the cream-puff mixture into hot fat and cook for ten minutes, or until well puffed and a delicate brown. Serve with liquid fruit sauce.

II. Drop mixture onto a buttered tin and bake in a moderate oven forty or forty-five minutes. When done, fill with cream filling and serve with a chocolate sauce.

Apricot Souffle—Cold

3 egg yolks ½ cupful of sugar, 2 tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, few grains of salt, 1 tablespoonful of Gelatin, ¼ cupful of cold water, ½ cupful of cream, 1 cupful of apricots cut into small pieces, whites of 3 eggs, ¼ teaspoonful of Vanilla.

Cook yolks of eggs, sugar and lemon juice together until thick. Add salt, gelatin soaked in cold water and apricots. Place over ice or in a cold place and stir until the mixture begins to stiffen. Then fold until stiff. Add vanilla and mold. In whites of eggs and cream, beaten Turn out and serve with whipped cream sweetened and flavored, and halves of apricots. Any canned fruit may be used in place of apricots.

POPULAR SCIENCE

The "holes in the sky" first noticed a few years ago promise to lead to a complete revision of our conception of the stellar system. These dark masses against a luminous background are recognized as light-obscuring clouds and Dr. A. C. D. Crommelin in Nature calls attention to the startling sharpness of a recent photograph taken with the 100-inch Hooker telescope of the dark enbula near Zeta in Orion. The clear cut outlines are thought to suggest a stratum of dust rather than of gas. Dr. A. Pannekoek has attempted to estimate the mass of dark nebula in Taurus, and finds it twenty thousand million times that of the sun which is greater than many estimates of the combined mass of the whole sidereal system. This brings up the possibility that the greater part of the universe may still have the form of cold cosmic clouds.

The red corpuscles forming about half of our blood appear to be frequently changing in size, and Doctor Price Jones of the British medical research council, notes a regular daily variation. The diameter increases during the day and diminishes in sleep. The variations seem to be associated with bodily activity, and this deduction is confirmed by the actually observed increase in the changes from violent exercise. The explanation is not quite clear.

The glacier bear or blue bear, (Ursus emonsil) of the Mt. St. Elias region Alaska, is one of the rarest of the many species of Ursus. The first living specimen exhibited in any zoological garden, was brought to the National zo-ological park in Washington in 1917 having been captured as a cub in May 1916. The animal is somewhat smaller than the common black bear of the same region and is especially notable for its beautiful blue-gray coat.

Though ultra-violet rays of light may bring death to disease germs, scientific research has proven that it is the luminous rays that have so powerful a direct effect on health. The visible or luminous rays of sunlight are of immense importance explained Prof. Leonard Hill at the late congress of the Royal Sanitary institute, because they penetrate the skin and locally warm up the blood, which absorbs them in subcutaneous vessels while body as whole is kept cool by the cool moving air. Advantage is taken of this in the Alps in the sun-treatment of tuberculous bones and joints. The dark heat rays on the other hand are absorbed by the skin's surface, and the ultra-violet rays cannot penetrate more than one-tenth of a millimetre—or one 250th of an inch—into the horny outer layer of the skin. Those discoveries and comparative life statistics for smoky towns and open fields, justify some simple inferences. "Sunlight warming the blood locally, cold moving air keeping the body cool and stimulating metabolism, and open-air exercise—these are the great factors for health next to good food and sufficient sleep, and of these the people of the cities are largely deprived."

While improved sanitation has saved 144,000 lives in Spain since 1900. Dr. Murillo, of the Spanish Sanitary service, reports that the country still has 50,000 cases of typhoid fever yearly, with 5,000 deaths. This condition seems to be due in possibly large measure to the general village practice of mixing human excreta with the manure applied in gardens and fields. In tests made, the typhoid bacilli remained virulent 55 days in sterilized sand, kept warm and damp, and 30 to 36 days in a field of radishes.

The radiation of heat and light just above the earth's surface is a mixture or radiations from the sun, the sky and the earth itself. With an Arago actinometer of perfected calibration. J. Vallot, as reported to the French Academy, has been able to estimate the relative proportions. In the clear atmosphere of Nice, the earth appears to be the source of about 7 per cent of the total radiation; the sky of about 25 per cent; and the remainder represents the portion coming directly from the sun.

CHILD SWEETHEARTS HAVE WILD TIME IN BAY CITY

By W. G. CAYCE
(By International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—Another youthful romance has been shattered.

Pretty 13-year-old Helen Davis is back in the olive orchard of her father's ranch, at Oreville, and 11-year-old Lawrence Mahoney, of the same town, is telling his playmates about the "sights" he saw during his and Helen's brief five-day stay in "the city."

Helen and Lawrence have been friends for several years — went to school together, played together and manifested a high regard for each other. The lure to see the "wild things" (as they called them) of San Francisco caused them to carefully plan a visit to the city, unknown to their parents. They pooled their financial resources, totalling about $20, and arrived here before they were missed from home.

Reaching San Francisco, Helen remembered some friends who lived at an elusive address, but she found they had either moved or she had the wrong street number, for they could not be located. Their only alternative was to take an apartment.

The absence of the children from their Oreville home was reported to the police of that city, and later the search spread over the state, and every police department had been notified of their disappearance. After five days of searching police officers here found them wandering about the Ferry Building watching the boats come in.

The youngsters were taken to the Juvenile Detention Home and when questioned by the matron, said they had left home "because we love each other." The matron also found by interrogation they had but fifty cents when found by the officer.

"It is not so much a case of love as it is of Helen being a 'big sister,'" said the matron at the detention home. "Helen has always treated Lawrence as her little brother, and, besides, Helen is a good cook."

During their stay in San Francisco the children had a "grand" time, according to pretty Helen, who said they had been to two or three moving picture shows daily and otherwise enjoyed their time.

Lawrence was serious about his trip here and had tried to secure a "corner" and sell newspapers, but was told he was "too little."

Following their apprehension the parents of the children were notified and arrived in a short time to take them home.

When Helen's father arrived at the detention home with tears of gladness in his eyes, she ran and threw her arms about his neck and declared she was "ready to go home to mother."

Lawrence reluctantly admitted he "guessed he had better go home also."

Danger Ahead

Little Tommie Brown was always interested in his new baby sister. One day he stood peering down upon it while the nurse was singing it to sleep.

"Nurse," he whispered at last, "she's nearly unconscious, isn't she?"

"Yes," nodded the nurse, and continued singing the lullaby.

Tommie whispered in alarm: "Then

Battle of Skirts Is On In Fashion World

BY MISS CLASSIE MARLOWE
Miss Marlowe will conduct the style revue at the Glendale Retail Exposition

At my own revue of the Fall Style Show, held at the Hotel Commodore, New York, we were credited with having authentic styles for her ladyship this fall.

Buyers from all over the country were grouped about giving their enthusiastic approval to the fashions which appealed to them and which looked as though they would live to grow in favor as the season developed.

There were full skirts and tight skirts, long skirts and short skirts, skirts with regular hems and those with endings so uneven that they seemed to have no starting and no finishing place. There were long

Suit skirts are medium length, evening dresses, as a rule, are much longer than they have been, though some of these are in a class which is long at one place and extremely short at another. And daytime dresses vary in length, from one thing to another, until one knows not where to place them. The chances are that the fall of the skirt will be gradual but sure, and that a year from now will see us in much more trailing gowns then we have thought of for some time past.

The lengthened bodice is interesting, chiefly because it adds such charm to the figure. It is sometimes fitted a little gently to accentuate the sleeves that were tightly fitted and those that flopped away quite unconfined. There were short sleeves and no sleeves at all. There were long waisted bodices and some that were short-waisted. There were Princess gowns and draped gowns.

Variety was the keynote of the occasion, and from all indications there is no reason why every woman in the broad land should not have this year exactly what suits her taste.

Spanish Influence

The Spanish influence in dress was strongly stressed by the foremost designers. Even when the creation was not conspicuously of Spanish origin, it had about it some hint of that influence.

They will be Spanish, these new styles, in some way or other, and when it comes to evening gowns, one thanks one's lucky stars that the designers had the Spanish inspiration. They are so picturesque and becoming, so soft and fluffy and beautiful in lines, so flowing in effect, with their laces and ribbons and spangles. Then there are Spanish shawls, which for evening wraps, are the loveliest things that have been seen for a long, long while. They wrap about the figure and swing over the shoulder. They are fringed and colored in the extreme; they are brocaded and embroidered. They make a picture wherever they are seen and whatever may be the manner of their manifold wrappings.

Season's Lines

Still some of the lines were straight and uncompromising in this collection of American designed models. There were little things made in one piece, and they were some of the smartest things there.

The skirt discussion has reached a really ludicrous level, for when one thinks of fashion and will insist upon talking fashions, one is constantly confronted with the reiterated question: "How long are the skirts going to be?" Now if these inquiring and puzzled questioners could only have witnessed the late fashion show they would have emerged in just as puzzled a state as they entered. The fact is that, as yet, no actual and non-disputable length has been established. The same designer will show dresses of ankle length, dresses of ten-inch-from-the-floor length and dresses which reach the knees in one spot and touch the floor in others. The chances are that some fine day, we shall reach a standard on this subject, but that time is not now.

figure. Then again it is quite baggy and bloused so that no hint of any curving is left visible. And the skirts at the ends of these fitted bodices have a little way of gathering themselves on to the waistline that is exceedingly striking. One dress of this character, and one of the prettiest at the show, by the way, was made of soft chiffon velvet with a bodice falling away from the shoulders in a drooping line, and tiny plain sleeves just a fraction of an inch in width it seemed. The only trimming was an evenly arranged bertha of points venise lace that ran straight across the shoulder line, accentuating the droop that had already been established by the lines of the gown. The lines of this frock were Spanish, but they were so delicately adapted that they became a creation of individuality and charm. And the Spanish suggestion worked its way into a modern creation with a subtlety that was perfect in its expression.

Last Note to Be Shown

On my return, I note with great satisfaction, that the shops of Glendale are wide-awake, and have advanced styles in the early shipments, and during the Greater Glendale Exposition, I will try to show the people of Glendale by presenting these garments on living models upon the illuminated runway prominade every afternoon and evening, with a complete change daily, the styles of today that are offered by the merchants, proving that one can buy in Glendale just as good or better and cost no more.

My trip to New York, with stop-off at Chicago to visit the Fashion Show conducted by the Chicago Garment Manufactures Association, Wholesale Millinery and Fur Associations at the Marigold, and now a view of what our own Pacific Coast Manufactures will show at the Trade Exposition, this week in Los Angeles, I feel sure that with my knowledge at hand and the most beautiful assortment of ready-to-wear suits, dresses, gowns, hats and furs carried here in Glendale, that I will pre-view the smartest Fashions.

"Don't stand grinning there!" shouted the victim in the water. "Throw me the life buoy."

"Well," replied a Scot, slowly, "I've heard it said that Scotchmen hae nae sense of humor, but I've a grand joke for ye. The life buoy is away for repairs."

BRITISH DOCTORS MAKE WAR UPON MIND CURES

(By International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 22.—Only a few years ago any British doctor who professed faith in "mental cures" was labelled "charlatan" or "quack." Today a violent controversy is raging in the medical press, with some of Britain's leading physicians announcing that not only nerve troubles but even pneumonia benefit by "mind treatment," auto-suggestion and hypnotism.

The row started at the annual meeting of the British Medical association. A large part of the association's time was devoted to debating the value of mental cures, and the discussion is continuing in the press.

Professor Robertson, of Edinburgh, a well-known physician, declared that wounds could not only be cured by mere suggestion, but could be inflicted in the same way. He asserted that he knew of one case where blisters were raised on a man's body simply by telling him he was being seared with a hot iron. He knew French doctors, he said, who considered mental suggestion an important treatment in cases of pneumonia, because it strengthened a patient's vitality and enabled him to fight the disease with better success

"I am not urging that we abandon the use of medicine," said Prof. Robertson, "but doctors should learn that there is something besides pills in their profession. If they would study mental cures they could throw away many a bottle of medicine."

Dr. Bernard Hollander, who advocated successfully the use of hypnotism and auto-suggestion in curing cases of shell-shock and nervousness during the war, said that the drug and drink habits yielded readily to psychic healing. But he warned the association that they must not rely on mental treatment alone.

Now comes Dr. F. L. Golla, assistant physician to St. George's hospital and a recognized authority on nerve diseases.

"Craze Came From America"

"These psychic healers forget that brain trouble always comes from bodily illness," he said. "Cure the body with pills and medicine and you cure the brain.

"The craze for mental healing came to us from America. It is dying down there now. It never made any headway in France—the French are too clear-headed, and it will have short life in England.

"I have seen mental suggestion tried too often. A man on the verge of insanity tells his doctor that he has killed his grandfather. The doctor, by suggestion, convinces him that he has not, but the next day he comes back and announces that he has killed his grandmother. The real cause has not been effected. There has been no cure."

Mr. Hindleton appeared at his neighbor's door one evening in a towering rage and uttering fierce threats against his neighbor's dog, Pongo. Vainly the neighbor tried to explain that Pongo was only a puppy. "It belongs to Johnny," he said, "and it would break his heart if anything happened to it. I think," hopefully, "that its manners will improve." "Manners!" repeated Hindleton. I'm not complaining of its manners, but its nature. After it had jumped all over me it bit the back of my leg." "That's as far as it can reach," broke in Johnny, in a wounded tone. "You don't expect a little pup like that to bite a big man like you on the neck?"

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Women as 'Commodity' Drug in Europe's Mart

(By International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 22.—Woman must be regarded as any other market commodity—butter, eggs, wheat, cotton or stocks and bonds.

Her "worth" in society—the respect man has for her—depends exactly upon the demand, just as the law of supply and demand governs the price of butter and eggs. If the present surplus of unmarried women, resulting from the world war, continues her value will decline and civilization will be threatened with disaster.

In this exceedingly blunt manner Professor Patrick Geddes, eminent English sociologist, deals with the problem of what to do with the ten million "surplus" women of Europe, a problem that has stirred the minds of leading French and German sociologists ever since the after-war census statistics showed its gravity.

When Civilization is High

"Civilization is high or low according as women are at a permium or at a discount," says Professor Geddes. "In the present circumstances our one hope is America. There women are not so numerous. There is keen competition for them and they choose their own husbands. They are more highly respected, and if they retain that respect they will make their influence felt in Europe, despite the seemingly hopeless situation of many women here."

Other English social workers generally reflect Professor Geddes' views. With one accord they reject the suggestion by a French writer that European nations should "save" their unmarriageable daughters by legalizing polygamy.

"The gravest and most urgent need of our times is to give the women who can never marry something else to fill up their lives," says Miss Lillian Barker, director of a women's employment and training committee. There are hundreds of thousands of women who cannot marry and who, unless they are helped, cannot get a job. Who can blame them if in order to live, they fall back upon their one remaining asset?"

The same fear that thousands of women will soon be forced to the streets was raised by a delegate to the meeting of the British League of Nations' Union. She openly charged that the government is encouraging prostitution by driving girls out of positions in government offices and industries.

Miss Margaret Bondfield, secretary of the Federation of Women Workers, does not think the situation is as bad as it is painted.

"We can avoid disaster," she says, "if we interest these women in social work, child welfare, maternity work and administration employment of many kinds."

PLUNGE FOR LIBERTY
(By International News Service)

CALAIS, Me., Aug. 22.—Milton Hanley, escaped prisoner, must be given credit for his nerve. Despite the fact that his feet were shackled while on his way to serve five years in the Dorchester, N. B., prison, he leaped from an express train speeding at sixty miles an hour and made his escape. Hanley was in custody of a sheriff. When the officer's attention was distracted for a moment Hanley made a spectacular jump through a car window at Harvey, N. B. Posses have so far found no trace of him. Hanley, who is twenty years old, had been convicted of breaking and entering a store at St. Stephen, N. B.

THROAT OF WHALE WAS TOO SMALL FOR PROPHET

So Dr. T. L. Riley Indicates in Sunday Lecture at Masonic Hall

"Did the whale swallow Jonah?" This biblical problem was the subject upon which Dr. F. L. Riley lectured at Masonic Hall, Sunday morning.

Teachers of the word have been atatempting for ages to answer this as well as scores of other biblical problems by a literal interpretation of the stories, much to the confusion of their auditors, as it is absolutely impossible to interpret a story literally, told allegorically.

As generally understood, the whale did not swallow Jonah.

Literally speaking, the whole could not accomplish such a feat.

The mouth of a whale is very large, but the throat is so small that it can swallow but very small fishes.

Occurrences stated as facts which actually took place, Jonah 1, 15-17, that "Jonah was cast into the sea;" "The Lord preparing a great fish to swallow Jonah;" "Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights;" literally speaking, nothing of the kind ever took place, as has been invariably taught and understood.

In leading up to the subject, the lecturer asserted that we can trace all of the important situations and truths contained in our Bible from the Chinese bible which was in use 550 years before our Bible was known, to the Persian, Babylonian and other bibles, away back several thousands of years to the original Sanscript.

The speaker characterized as "assinine stupidity" "the generally accepted conclusion of the orthodox teaching of the day, that the people of those countries who have handed down practically all of the information and truths of which we boast as Christian principles, should be designated as "heathen," and take upon themselves the arrogant task of converting them;" looking upon ourselves (Christians) as "chosen people."

It is a significant fact that while our Bible was written in Greek, the Greek race was in a savage state long after the Hindoo bible came into use, from which many of our bible stories were taken and can be found at this day.

A few allegorical interpretations showing the foolishness of the present-day literal interpretations of the Bible, follow:

"Cast into the sea:" fear, anxiety, trouble, hell.

"Fish": (in Greek) "the truth saves." Brahma, who claimed to be the "Creator, the Brahman God," assumed the shape of a fish.

Note that Jonah was cast, not in fresh water, which is symbolic of "all good things," but was cast in salt water, symbolic of evil.

Jonah was not a "man," the term is symbolic of the "inner man," "that something," "intuition," a state of consciousness, not mere human reasoning.

"Three days and nights in the whale's belly," a state of mind.

Anyone who becomes agitated, flies into a passion, is envious, vindictive, jealous or brutal, for the time being, is a "Jonah."

The lecturer emphasized that regardless of color, creed, or race, all are God's children; none can justly be regarded as heathen or chosen of God.

Next Sunday morning Dr. Riley chooses as his subject, "What about the money which Jesus took from the mouths of fishes?"

Look it up, learn what your literal interpreters think they know on the subject, then come and be convinced how easily a real bible (not commentator) school can put to rout the parrot stuff which has been forced upon us for ages.

In every Monday's issue of each of our local papers you will find a brief synopsis of Sunday's lecture; also in every Saturday's issue of each of our local papers you will find topic of next lecture.

MRS. WELCH BUYS GLENDALE HOME

A handsome, hand-decorated five room residence belonging to C. Peterson and H. A. Neilson, at 362 West Harvard street, has just been sold through the agency of H. M. Miller, of 114 East Broadway, to Mrs. Agnes I. Welch, of 4046 Melrose Hill, Hollywood. This is one of the most beautiful residences in Glendale and it is expected that it will be occupied by Mrs. Welch and her three daughters. Mrs. Welch's original intention when arriving in Glendale, was to rent a home, but when she saw this beautiful dwelling she immediately changed her mind.

'TREASURES ABOVE,' DR. FUNK'S TOPIC

Preaching the from the text, Matt. 6-21, "Where your treasure is, there will the heart be also," the Rev. Dr. Funk, of the First Lutheran church said yesterday that Abram, tenting on the plains of Sodom, could not be tempted because he had had a glimpse of the eternal city.

"I have noticed," he said, "that when people live in tents for a while they do not put on their best clothes, because others are good enough. So when people tell me they cannot attend services because they do not have fine clothes, I tell them we are campers, pilgrims, just tenting here for a while, and their clothes, however worn and threadbare they may be, are good enough to go to church. By and by you will be invited to a great feast in the palace of the king; and when you say, 'my clothes are not good enough,' He will say, 'Come just as you are,' for He will provide a robe of righteousness for you.

"The trouble with most of us is, we are too worldly minded. A good many people join the church because they want to find rest; and some of them don't do anything but rest, their vacation lasts all the year round. One good sister said to me, 'I had a hard time making up my mind, but I finally decided to unite with the church and I can rest easy now.' My, what an awful mistake some folks make!' So I said to this good woman: 'Sister your trouble has just begun. The Christian life is not a rest, it's a warfare, whose object is to bring peace. After joining the church you put on the uniform of a christian soldier and the promise of a reward is not to be the one that goes to sleep, but to "him that overcometh." "

"No, my dear friends, these easeloving, wordly, tobacco-soaked, cardplaying Christians, are not the ones that become the great benefactors of the human race. We talk about suffering for Christ, but really, we don't know anything about suffering. Why it is the popular thing now to belong to church, and it is the fellow that don't belong that is ridiculed. It was not so with the Apostle Paul. He was beaten with 40 stripes, save one, not once but many times. He was shipwrecked and imprisoned. He was stoned and left for dead. When he came to, what did he do? Run away? No, he went to Corinth and began preaching again. How did he travel? On a pullman? No, he walked every step of the way. After preaching a year and a half, a committee waited on him. What did they give him? Listen, forty stripes, save one. The world calls him a fool, for he was beheaded for his faith and fidelity to God. But how could he bear it all without complaining? The answer is found in these words: "Forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press forward to the mark of the prize of the high calling of God, in Christ Jesus.' And when the end came, he could say, 'I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord the righteous judge, shall give me at that day; and not unto me only, but unto all of them that love his appearing."

"I met a man some time ago who is a banker, a lumber dealer and a land owner, he had made a good paying investment and was about to sell it; so he said to his wife as we talked together; 'what will we do with the money?' She replied, 'You promised to give it to the Lord.' 'All right,' said he, 'we must see where it will do the most good.' Then he told me that he had 48 acres of land a half mile out of the city which he had thought of giving to the church for a home to the orphans or the aged. That same man has given a quarter of a million dollars to one of our needy colleges. What wonder that the Lord is prospering him. This man is doing his giving quietly, and is hardly ever heard of, but he is laying up treasures above."

J. C. HAY PREACHES AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

During the absence of Pastor Clifford A. Cole for three Sundays, his pulpit is being filled by other ministers. Yesterday the incumbent was Elder John C. Hay, near his 80th year and dean of the Christian preachers of Southern California. He is the regular pastor at Needles during nine months of the year, no services being held during the three torrid months, June, July and August. Elder Hay has been in the ministry nearly 60 years, and 40 years ago, when living in La Canada, he would gallop across the desert wastes, now occupied by the city of Glendale, every Sunday, to preach in Los Angeles.

His subject yesterday morning was: "How to Live," and in the evening, "Christian Growth." Paul's admonition to Titus in the second chapter of the book of that name, and the 12th, 13th and 14th verses, was his text for the morning discourse, and the speaker dwelt upon the necessity for the constant increase of charity or love by the Christian. Real Christianity never persecutes, he said, though many alleged followers of the meek and lowly Jesus have, in past centuries mistakenly and zealously tortured those who differed with them as to the plan of salvation. Sin has been defined as "anything we should not do," and it is God's word which tells us what sin is.

The texts for the evening service were taken from the fifth chapter of II Corinthians: "If any man be in Christ Jesus he is a new creature"; and from Romans, sixth chapter: "Buried with him in baptism, we arise to walk in newness of life."

The speaker showed that the Christian should be a new creature, his life permeated with love for his fellowmen. He should be always seeking opportunities for helping others and should practice the virtues enumerated by the Master in the sermon on the mount. "It is not enough to refrain from evil. Active goodness and love to all men is repuired of the Christian," was the speaker's closing comment.

Special musical numbers were given by Harry Marple at the morning service and by Mrs. Floyd Mercer and Mrs. R. P. Jodon in duet, in the evening.

COLE BUYS LOT ON CENTRAL AVENUE

J. A. Cole has purchased an east front lot on Central avenue between California and Myrtle streets. It is Mr. Cole's intention to move one of the dwellings from his former property at Orange and Broadway, in the near future, onto his new holding on Central. After being moved the home will be improved and beautified.

PORTER'S FORD MISSING

The Ford automobile belonging to Glenn B. Porter, 344 Salem street, was stolen from in front of the Presbyterian Church, corner Cedar and Broadway last night at about 8 o'clock. Up to this time the police have been unable to locate this machine. The license number of Mr. Porter's Ford was 185,676 and the engine number was 615252.

KOREAN MISSIONERY TELLS TROUBLES TO HIS CHURCH

Rev. George B. McCune Tells Presbyterians of Some of the Dark Days

The people of the Presbyterian church had an extraordinary privilege Sunday morning in hearing Rev. Geo. B. McCune, of Korea. His address, from start to finish, was of most compelling interest.

He and his wife started for Korea in July 1905, and had a journey of shipwrecks and lost everything they had, "but they had the Lord," who has been with them all these years, saving their lives through all.

Those in Korea have been going through things not revealed on the outside, a word being surt to be misinterpreted. He has come back here to tell us how the fight has been going on; it has been awfully hard and dark sometimes, as when he was in a mortal struggle with a man with a revolver, intent on killing, but nothing can happen that the Lord will not permit.

History of Korea

Korea has a wonderful history of 4000 years, but they have lived too long thinking and talks of what their ancestors did. In late years, waking up, they are prone to think of what they are going to do. But in this new forward look they put trust for uplift in a false friend, to their sorrow. Christ only is the real uplifter.

There is a great corporation in America that has the motto, "Get the light into all the world," and whose agents have been in every corner of the earth—the Standard Oil company. Mr. McCune met one in an obscure corner of Korea and learned it was his fourth trip there. We have another company which has the same motto.

The Darkest Spot

Syenchun was the darkest, wickedest spot in Korea. It had to be avoided at night time. Now it has 3500 Christians and is a clean, peaceful town. Like transformations are going on al lover. It is only a little over 30 years sine the first Christian was baptized. We Presbyterians have missionaries in 27 ountries of the world. Of the converts, one-third are in Korea. And yet, last year, only about $125,000 of our money went into their work. Theirs is now a fully self-governing church, and that makes a self-supporting church. It has 13 Presbyteries, and its own general assembly. There are but two denominations at work there—Presbyterian and Methodist. These two work in separate segments with no overlapping. The whole work has grown from one to over 300,000 within one generation.

Gains Converts

Over two-thirds of all these Christians were last year in Bible conferences and classes. And every single Christian is in Sunday school—a schol, perhaps, having to meet in several installments—and every one at church service; and every ont is at prayer meeting, with just an ordinary elder leading. All of them preach—they are not baptized unless they are ready for that—and every one does Christian work; their business, they consider, is simply to pay expenses. And so the live church grows. But it has gone through most terrible things. A while ago, the people undertook to make "peaceful protest" against the tyrannical usurpation of the government by Japan. Everybody shouted: "Long live Korea!"—nothing more. It was no crime in our country once to do this kind of thing, but for it they were shot down by thousands. Many Christians were among these. Then all the people followed in spirit. The Christians were especially noticed, and thtre were many conspiracies to attack them. In a church, the minister was dragged out of his pulpit through the door just behind him, then one of his elders, a stalwart giant and wealthy, almly took his place to carry on tte service, and he, too, was pulled out of the door to jail. But all were self-ootrolled. Then the third man went forward, and he likewise was dragged out. There is no man there now of any account but who has been in jail. Churches have been burned, Bibles burned. Yet all these persecutions have worked as blessings, and the church has grown. "There must be something dood in this religion," was the feeling.

Elders Rule

In oKrea age allows domineering—the older men do all the bossing. God allowed some of the older men to be snatched to prison who had been blocking the way of the best advance, and younger and wiser men with vissions got their opportunity to get in their real, true work. Afterwards the older men came out, saying, "We've been in prison with Jesus."

A Christian teacher of position was lashed and scarred and thrown into prison. Gttting out, he said, "It was so good to suffer with Christ." Giving up his teaching, he became a minister; he preached, and was snatched to prison. There he had freedom to preach, and he went into every province of Korea, into Siberia and Hawaii, and more, by all the prisoners, for he taught all of them. They even sang, with mouths wide open, but not making a sound. This man was moved from cell to cell through all the prison, and many churches in many places have sprung from that work.

The persecution has been a cause of blessing in that the fleeing, scattered ones have carried the Word wherever they went. Where a Korean Christian goes, his Bible goes and his Lord goes. Thus, they have gone into Siberia and Manchuria; there, they are the only ones reaching the Russian peasants.

We are altogether in this world—you praying and supporting over here. Those in danger have been released many times by the prayer of those at home.

The Sacrifice

JJohn and Mary Gastin, friends of the speaker, went into interior China. Then one day, Mary was sick with the fever; it would be serious. They took a little boat and started down the river, praying as they went. After some time, she said: "Let's go up that hill, under that shade tree." He carried her up. "I know I'm not going any farther, John. I'm so glad I came!"—kissed him and was gone.

He was utterly at peace. In the dusk he had to go down and get an oar from the boat with which to dig a grave. He put boughs in, put on her skirt for a shroud, laid her in, laid over more boughs, put the earth in. "It nearly killed me to do that," he said later. He had asked her: "Where do you want me to go?"

"Go back again," she had told him. And he did.

That's the kind of service that is needed in Glendale—America—the whole world.

JOHN BROWN CALLS FOR GLENDALE FOLKS

Tomorrow night will be Los Angeles county Christian Endeavor night at the John Brown evangelistic services in Los Angeles. The meetings which started about a week ago, are being held in a large tabernacle at the corner of Vernon and McKinley avenues. Dozens of young folks of Glendale are expecting to attend the service on this occasion. The local Christian Endeavorers will probably meet here and go down in a body. They are determined that Glendale shall have a good representation at this meeting.

To those wishing to attend, the instructions are: take San Pedro car to Vernon avenue, where you will be right at the door of the tabernacle.

One Born Every Fourth Minute

A LADY with a family of three children didn't want any more because she had heard that every fourth child born in the world was a Chinaman.

As ludicrous, perhaps, as an old misconception some skeptical folks used to have about advertising.

There was a time when some advertisements had to be taken with a grain of salt. A few misguided advertisers thought they could sell their goods better by misrepresenting them. Those advertisers have long since gone out of business or mended their ways. Hard experience taught that untruthful advertising didn't pay.

Other advertisers proved that the only way to advertise successfully, make regular customers, and build up good will was to TELL THE ABSOLUTE TRUTH about their goods in their advertisements. You can depend on the merchant or manufacturer who advertises. The concern that tells you frankly what it is doing is a good concern with which to do business. The store that advertises is a progressive store that has something really worth while to say to you. And companies that advertise their products or their service have confidence in them. You can safely share their confidence.

Glendale Chapter of the American Red Cross is planning an intensive campaign for used clothes for shipment to needy persons in Central and Eastern Europe. This phase of the foreign production program is being conducted in cooperation with the American Friends Service Committee.
Nation-wide appeal for contributions of used clothing is being made through The Saturday Evening Post, The Ladies Home Journal, and the Country Gentleman, in which prospective donors are instructed to get in touch with the nearest Red Cross representative or Chapter.
The call is for all kinds of warm and serviceable clothing in good condition, or for materials out of which to make garments. The local Chapter will receive contributions during August, and every interested citizen in Glendale is urged to remember that some garment he can do without may be just THE garment that will save the life of some suffering child. Garments for all ages are badly needed. They should be clean and in good repair.
Distribution is made in Czecho-Slovakia, Austria, Hungary, Poland, the Balkan and Baltic States, by the American Red Cross, through its Child Welfare Units, and other distribution machinery, and in Poland, Austria, Germany and Russia, by the American Friends Service Committee. Working in close cooperation in the countries in which both organizations are active, their representatives are careful to avoid duplication of effort.
Clothing may be left at the fire stations on East Broadway and Los Feliz road, and also at 347 North Brand Boulevard.

WALTER ROBERTS IS COMPLETELY CURED

After practically six months of an almost uninterrupted confinement in the Children's hospital in Los Angeles, little Walter Roberts, son of Fred H. Roberts of the Roberts & Echols Drug company, was brought to his home at 312 West Myrttle street, last week. The ordeal through which this youngster has been compelled to go was indeed a trying one. When Walter was considerable younger he suffered with spinal menningitis, the result of which was the cause of an operation early this year. Just sixteen days after returning from the hospital as a result of this operation Walter fell and broke his leg. He was taken back to the hospital, where for two months he was compelled to lie on his back with his injured leg suspended in the air. The attending physicians often remarked at the wonderfully cheerful manner in which the little fellow endured his sufferings.
Today the Roberts home, and even the drug sttore, is all smiles. The little chair which for so very long has been vacant is once more being occupied and the beloved youthful voice, which for so many months has not been in evidence around the Roberts home, may now be heard in play and laughter.
Papa Roberts says that everything sure looks brighter then it did six months ago.

LAST "SHAM" SHOW TONIGHT AT GRAND

Closing tonight at the T. D. & L. Palace Grand is "Sham," a Paramount picture starring Ethel Clayton. Included in the cast is Theodore Roberts, Walter Hiers and Sylvia Ashton, who very capably support the star in one of the finest comedies seen here in many weeks.
With this bit of humor is added a feature attraction in Gouverneur Morris' first story written directly for the sceen. He has never packed more thrills, more romance, more suspense, more lively incidents into a story than he has in his first screen drama.
Get ready for a rare treat in the opening of our New Hope Jones Wurlitzer organ which will be ready for use in the very near future.

WILLIAM DESMOND AT THE GLENDALE

William Desmond will appear tonight at the Glendale Theatre in the soul-stirring drama, "Women Men Love." Mr. Desmond will be remembered as the matinee idol of the old Burbank theatre, when he and Miss Blanch Hall were playing opposite roles.
Mr. Desmond's past work is sufficient guarantee that the principal feature at the Glendale Theatre tonight will be of the highest character.
In addition to this 5-reel drama, there will be a number of additional features.

OBITUARY

MRS. CATHERNE A. DRUMMOND
Mrs. Catherine A. Drummond, mother of Mrs. E. B. Hall, 1232 South Mariposa street, passed away August 20, at the age of 70 years. She was a native of South Carolina, but had spent the greater part of her life in Missouri. For two years she had been ill and came to California eight months ago in the hope that the change of climate would benefit her. Besides the daughter mentioned, she leaves a son and daughter in Oklahoma. Funeral services are being held this afternoon at the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn, beginning at 2 o'lock, with the L. G. Scovern company in charge.

ALTHEUS B. MOODY
Altheus B. Moody died August 20 at the home of his son, A. B. Moody, jr., 533 West Burchett street, this city. He was 80 years of age and a native of Ohio. His home was in Alhambra, but he was the guest of his son when the death summons acme.
Mr. Moody is survived by his wife, Sarah L. Moody, two sons and a daughter. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m., in the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn, with the L. G. Sovern company in charge.

H. H. W. AUGUSTUS
Harry Harrison W. Augustus, who had been a resident of Glendale for ten years, died Sunday at his late residence, 203 West Los Feliz road.
He was born December 15, 1849, in Chillicothe, O., and leaves a widow, Cordelia Augustus, two daughters and a son, living in Kansas.
Funeral services will be in charge of the L. G. Scovern company and will be held Wednesday at 3:30 p. m., at the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn.

MARY RATTAN
Mrs. Mary Rattan, who was a resident of Glendale for about 18 months, died August 21 at the age of 76 years, at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs.J. R. Kirkpatrick at Bell, California. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. A. Jordan, 1116 East Florence avenue, Bell, and two sons, Dr. A. S. Rattan of Fort Worth and John J. Rattan of El Paso, Texas. During her stay here she made many warm frends by whom she will be missed.
Funeral services will be held at the Jewel City Undertaking Company, Wednesday, at 10:30 a. m. Dr. Holmes of Huntington Park Baptist Church, will officate. Interment will take place in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

GILBERT VAN HEAD
Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert L. Head, 130 North Cedar street, mourn the loss of their son, Gilbert Van Head, who died this morning at the age of ten years. Heart trouble was the cause of his demise. Funeral services which will be private, will be held Wednesday and will be in charge of the Pulliam & Kiefer Company.

CATHERINE EMMA GARRISON
Catherine Emma Garrison, seven months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verne W. Garrison, 121½ S. Isabel street, passed away Saturday, August 20. Funeral services were held this morning at 10 o'clock from the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking Company. Rev. W. E. Edmonds, officiated. Interment was made in Forest Lawn.

KATHERINE HARRIS
Katherine Harris passed away at the Los Angeles hospital on Saturday, August 20, aged 18 years. Deceased leaves to mourn her a mother, Mrs. Grace Sissett of Madera, Calif., two brothers, Alvin and Lyman, both of Madera, and five sisters, Mrs. D. A. Clark and Mrs. D. W. Clark, of Lankershim, and Mrs. R. M. Farriee of West Albany, N. Y., Misses Lottie and Bertha Harris of Madera. Funeral services will be held from parlors of Jewel City Undertaking Company this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment in Forest Lawn.

91ST DIVISION IS TO BE AMUSED

Four shows of three acts each, all recruited from the week's bill at vaudeville theaters of the city or from Hollywood's motion picture colony, will entertain former members of the Ninety-first division, who are to assemble in Los Angeles, September 24 and 25, for their second annual reunion, according to the announcement of the committee today. Roy Marshall, adjutant of the Hollywood post of the American Legion, whose membership is almost entirely recruited from members of the theatrical proession, is chairman of the committee.
The shows will tour the ten or twelve regimental banquets planned for the first night of the gathering. One of the biggest acts is expected to be a company of dancing bathing beauties from one of the big motion picture comedy companies. Song leaders will get the diners going on verses they chanted in France—verse which has never been published but which the men know by heart.
Buck privates or the Ninety-first who got a glass arm in France from saluting, are planning their revenge.
Officers are going to salute them at the division's reunion in Los Angeles, they say, while their arms dangle at their sides.
"I am not saluting anyone. I did enough of that in service," writes a former member of the 362d headquarters company. "I am coming down with a gang of other bucks from Montana and officers are going to salute us, unless they outnumber us."

BUILDING PERMITS

The building permit totals up to noon today were $327,666 for August, and $2,646,590 for the year thus far. Those issued this forenoon were as follows:

MRS. D. STEPHENSON GIVES LUNCHEONS

Mrs. Dwight Stephenson was hostess last week at two pretty luncheons given at her beautiful home on Cypress street.
She entertained on Friday, a group of old school chums which included Mrs. Frank Weller, Miss Alice McCoy, and Miss Francis Payne. On this occasion her table was centered with asters and other fall flowers, with appointments to harmonize.
At her second luncheon which took place Saturday, places were laid for Mrs. E. Blair, Mrs. R. Crawford, Miss Sena Justema of Hollywood, Mrs. William Justema and Mrs. John Watson, of Glendale. Red Roses were used in decoration for this function.
On both afternoons the ladies busied themselves with needlework and enjoyed a few musical numbers.

MACHINES CLASH
Robert W. Pratt, 321 North Brand boulevard, reported to the police Sunday that when going up the Griffith Park hill on Los Feliz road, he came to an auto driven by Godfried Spring of Los Angeles, standing across the road. When he had gotten almost past the motionless auto it suddenly lurched forward, smashing into the left side of Pratt's car and damaging fender and lamp bracket. Spring claimed his gears were not working right, Mr. Pratt said.

BOY SCOUTS LEAVE FOR LYTLE CAMP ON AUTO TRUCK

Twenty-three Leave for Eight Days of Woodcraft Instruction by Robison

It was "skidoo" for boy scouts of Glendae this morning, when 23 of them left by truck for an eight-day outing in Lytle creek canyon, near Glen ranch.

In charge of the party was Scout Director Benjamin Robinson, and it was also accompanied by Benjamin Robinson, jr., scout master of troop No. 2.

The first task upon arrival will be the making of the camp, which the scouts always enjoy and in which they are quite professionally proficient.

Tuesday morning, the hikes will begin with a trip to Bonita Falls, about a mile from camp.

The happy scouts in the party are: C. G. Farrow, Dallas Kalbaugh, Hugo Ells, Wayne Maxwell, John Faries, Claude Streight, Kenneth Miles, Rosio Graham, Jack Packard, Bertrand Foster, Milo Sherrick, Thomas Wood, jr., Charles Kaussen, Robert Eastman, John Hammersley, Wallas Haines, Clifford Walcott, Eugene Wernette, Alexander Chase, and Charles Mambert, Horace Brown, Arthur Barton and Wilbur Booth.

RITUAL CONTEST OPENS AT ELKS' LODGE TONIGHT

There will be big things on at the Glendale Lodge of Elks No. 1289, tonight. The main feature of the evening will be the beginning of the ritualistic contest for the Raymond Benjamin cup. The Glendale ritualistic team will meet the teams from Santa Monica and Los Angeles. Similar contetsts will be held by the twenty lodges in the southern jurisdiction. The team that wins at the local lodge tonight will compete with the winners from the other parts of the district.

The team that comes out on top in the southern jurisdiction will compete with the winners of the other three jurisdictions of California at the state convention to be held in Santa Cruz in October. The team that is victorious on this occasion, will be awarded the silver cup.

It is expected that ten or more new members will be initiated into the order tonight.

REV. FORD'S CABIN

The cabin which Rev. Ernest E. Ford has been building in the Arroyo Seco three quarters of a mile beyond the Switzer Relay, is now completed and Mr. and Mrs. Ford are spending their vacation there.

BOY, PAGE DIOGENES! HERE'S AN HONEST MAN; ADMITS IT

Some days ago one of the traffic officers arrested a Mexican giving the name of M. R. Bustamante, of 247 Ojai street, Santa Paula, for an infraction of the traffic laws. He plead poverty so strenuously that he was let off from putting up bail, promising earnestly to appear for trial on August 19. The time came but no Bustamante. Instead Judge Lowe received the following unique epistle which he says caps the climax for the number of excuses given: "Sir, I was to appear at the police court Friday, August 19, at 10 o'clock. But it's impossible for me to do so. First, I am out of money now. Second, I have an aged father and a lot of brothers and sisters. Now my mother is in bed, sick. And it's all impossible for me. Do as you please. If you want to come and take my machine for what I owe, you can do so. For I am a true and honest man."

SIPPLE PLANS IMPROVEMENT

Louis Sipple, 230 North Louise street, who bought Mrs. Susie Weisling's residence property at 621 East Colorado street, in June, is putting up a 5-room house and double garage on the place. There already was a 5-room house on the rear of the lot. Mr. Sipple says he expects to put in a solid concrete driveway leading back to the garage, which is between the two houses.

MUSICIAN OF LONDON WOULD LIKE TO LOCATE HERE

Mrs. Ruth Rogers Applies for Position as Organist in Local Church

A communication was received this morning by Secretary Rhoades of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce from Mrs. Ruth Rogers, R. A. M., of London, England, who is interested in Glendale and wants to come here. Her letter, which follows, is self-explanatory:

"I understand that a church is to be erected in Glendale (Congregational) and I am writing for a position as organist. I have had a wide and varied experience in every branch of the musical profession and I am now organist at two large churches. I also teach music in the day schools, both boys and girls, and am an instructor in both class and choir singing.

"I am a widow, 35 years of age, with a daughter 16 years old. I have friends in Los Angeles who know the quality of my work. I should like to be near them. Any other particulars I would gladly furnish."

This communication goes to show that the value of the work of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce can not be estimated. Communications in answer to inquiries are sent by Mr. Rhoades to all parts of the world, and many of these have the effect of bringing new people to this city.

RUSHING COMPLETION OF BIG RETAIL EXPOSITION

The cut shows exactly khat the interior of the coming Glendale Merchants' Exposition will be like. The affair will be held under the auspices of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce in a big tent on the athletic field of the Glendale Union high school. This exposition, which promises to be one of the finest of its kind ever held in Southern California, will begin next Saturday and continue until September 3.

Within a day or two, there will be "big things on" in preparation for this event. The mammoth tent, which was made especially for this affair, 110 by 310 feet in size, has been completed and is now en route to Glendale. It is the largest tent in Southern California and will accommodate more than 15,000 people during each day of the exposition. It cost $11,500.

The entrance to the tent will be on Brand boulevard between Colorado and Harvard, just south of the Masonic Temple. Steps will be constructed over the concrete wall which surrounds the high school field.

Worth-While Show

"It is our intention," said Manager H. Elmo LaBreque, of the exposition, today, "to make this show the best ever. Glendale has given us better support than we have received anywhere else in Southern California, although we have put on shows in many of the cities suburban to Los Angeles. This city is surely a world beater, and we want to assure all of the people of this place who are backing us, and everyone else, so far as that is concerned, that we will put on a show that will be a credit to Glendale.

Surprise Feature

"We will open the eyes of the people of this city with regard to the quality of the merchandise handled by Glendale merchants, as well as the fair prices charged at local stores. We firmly believe that Glendale has lower prices for any particlar line of goods than any city her size in the country, and in this exposition we are going to demonstrate this fact.

"We will also show that the goods handled by Glendale merchants are right -up-to-the-minute in style. The coming show will be complete in every detail and we will have many surprises for those who attend."
